PEFINDO lowers the ratings for PT Barata Indonesia (Persero) to "idCCC", outlook revised to CreditWatch Negative

PEFINDO has lowered the ratings of PT Barata Indonesia (Persero) (Barata) and its Medium-Term Notes (MTN) I 2017 Serie A and MTN I 2017 Serie B to "idCCC" from "idBB" and revised the corporate rating outlook to "credit watch with negative implication". The rating action reflects Barata's inability to serve its financial obligations including coupon payment of its MTN I 2017 Serie A, as stated in today's announcement from Indonesia Central Securities Depository (KSEI) regarding the postponement of the MTN's coupon payment due on March 8, 2021. Its MTN rating could be lowered to "idD" if the Company fails to repay the coupon payment before the end of remedial period of 14 business days.

An obligor rated idCCC is currently vulnerable, and is dependent upon favorable business and financial conditions to meet its financial commitments.

The rating reflects our view on Barata's high liquidity risk, weak cash flow protection measures, and high financial leverage. The rating is offset by its good market position as a manufacturer of iron and steel castings in its main end markets, and our expectation for continued demand from infrastructure projects.

The rating may be lowered if Barata fails to secure the payment of its maturing coupon of MTN I Year 2017 Series A over the upcoming days as committed. We may raise the ratings and/or remove the ratings from CreditWatch with negative implication if Barata is able to settle its maturing coupon MTN I Year 2017 Series A and already has sufficient funding sources to settle its maturing coupon payment of MTN I 2017 Series B.
