PT Barata Indonesia (Persero) rated “idBB-” with “Stable” outlook

PEFINDO has affirmed its “idBB-” ratings to PT Barata Indonesia (Persero) “BRTA” and its Medium-Term Notes (MTN) I Year 2017 Series A and Series B. The outlook for the corporate rating is “stable”.

An obligor rated idBB has a somewhat weak capacity to meet its long-term financial commitments relative to that of other Indonesian obligors. It faces ongoing uncertainties or exposure to adverse business, financial or economic conditions which could result in an inadequate capacity to meet its financial commitments. The minus (-) sign indicates that the rating is relatively weak within its category.

The rating reflects our view on Barata’s weak financial profile and weak operating management. The rating is offset by its established presence in the industry.

We may raise the rating if Barata improves its operating management on a sustained basis reflected by its ability to rebuild its order backlog that would provide sufficient revenue and profit visibility, combined with material improvement in its financial indicators such as leverage and cash flow protection measures. We may lower the rating if Barata’s operating performance declines beyond what we expected, reflected by its inability to generate adequate working capital inflows as well as lack of new contract wins, further impairing its revenue and profit visibility.
